

Marcella Pedullà, born in Salerno on 19/07/1955. She graduated with honors in Medicine and Surgery at the I Faculty of Medicine and Surgery Federico II University of Naples on 10/30/1979, Specialized with honors in Pediatrics at the School of Specialization of the I 1st Faculty of Medicine and Surgery of the University of Naples Federico II on 25/07/1983 with Master in Neonatology on 19/10/1990 at the University of Federico II of Naples - Faculty of Medicine and Surgery.

Lecturer of the "Pediatric Clinic" discipline from 1988 to 1999.

Professor in the School of Specialization of Pediatrics "F. Fede" of Faculty of Medicine and Surgery of the Second University of Naples (now University of Campania "L. Vanvitelli") from the year academic 1999-2000 nowadays.

Assistant Professor (Research) at the Department of Pediatrics "F.Fede" of School of Medicine and Surgery of the Second University of Naples from the year academic year 2003-2004 and at the Department of Women, Child and Surgery general and specialist of the Medical School of University of Campania "L. Vanvitelli" from the academic year 2012-13.

Her research activity is focused on topics of pediatric immunopathology, with particular focus on allergic and autoimmune pathologies.