RESEARCH FIELD

Knowledge of the scientific basics of representation with regard to the diachronic history of metamorphoses and methodological aspects related to the analysis of geometric configurations of architectural and urban artifacts.

In the most recent research, the description of formal structures generalized in parametric and informative models aimed at developing procedures to support workflows for projects for the protection and enhancement of cultural heritage. Mathematics of nodal systems, museum installations, dissemination and protection of inherited heritage.

Fields of application

- Advanced 3D surveying techniques with active and passive sensors;
- Virtual museums for the documentation and enhancement of Cultural Heritage and archaeological heritage;
- Executive reconstructions of war machines from the Republican period (1st century before and after Christ. www.archeotecnica.com);
- Design for innovation and technology transfer.

Case Studies of the last 15 years

- Digital preservation, dissemination and study. Applications:
- Ancient Capua, Tombs of the III-IV sec.;
- Romanesque capitals of Sant Cugat, Barcelona (ES);

- Archaeology and military architecture. In the light of the polemological analysis:
- The walls of Telesia and a remarkable sophistication of the defensive systems described by Philon of Byzantium in the fifth book of the Mechanical Syntax (third century. BC);
- The oxygonal defence in the Hellenistic age, which finds a singular repetition in the Renaissance age and, later, an accurate scientific formulation in the eighteenth-century treatise by Carlo Borgo;
- The square-plan defensive fences: from the correct sizing of Babylonian kudurri (16th-12th centuries BC) to Hellenistic tetrapyrghos;
- From the Roman quadriburgum (legionary architecture) to the medieval fortifications:
- in the religious sphere, the monastery of San Cugat del Vallès and, more generally, the Cistercian abbeys;
- in civilian dress, the Matinale di San Felice a Canello and, more generally, the castles of Frederick;
- Evolution of the square plan in the Renaissance: the fort of Neptune (Antonio da Sangallo the Elder) and its schematic representations up to the treatise by Carlo Borgo;
- The design of the immaterial qualities. The cloister of Sant Cugat;
- The relief of emergencies. Aversa: digital archives of the city of foundation;
- The relief of the changing city: a passionate attempt to safeguard compromised places, in search of the dynamics of degradation to direct the analysis to the programmatic purposes;
- Geometries as forms of construction of the project. Ontologies of data to compare the transcription of ideas in hypothesis of constructive feasibility and, vice versa, the description of the artifacts in configurative synthesis;
- Design for innovation: advanced techniques of representation;
- Wooden houses: the design of the construction system. Applications of the patent;
- Digital archives and parametric models. The design of the evolutionary model: the automatic management of data ontologies to govern variable properties with respect to permanent attributes.
