

Franca Ferraraccio born in Naples on 07/16/1956 graduated in Medicine and Surgery in July 1980 with 110 cum laude. Specialized in Anatomy and Pathological Histology and in Medical Oncology. As an expert on the subject, she carried out teaching activities and courses in Anatomy and Pathological Histology at the Second University of Naples.

Winner of two scientific prizes from the National Academy of Sciences, Letters and Arts. Graduated technician with assistance activity from 1990 to 2000, year in which she was the winner of the competition as associate professor of Anatomy and Pathological Histology at the Second University of Studies of Naples.

She has published in national and international journals and has participated in numerous national and international conferences.

She has carried out research in the fields of cerebral and gastro-enteric oncology, in liver pathology in experimental pharmacology and in cardiovascular lesions, using immunohistochemistry, transmission and scanning electron microscopy. She has carried out teaching activities in Pathological Anatomy in the degree course in Medicine and Surgery, in nursing science courses, in specializations of Paediatrics and Oncology.

Holder of the master's degree course in Dentistry and Dental Prosthetics, lecturer in the areas of oral surgery and pediatric dentistry.