

Daniele Santarelli
Associate Professor of Early Modern History
Dipartimento di Lettere e Beni Culturali
Università degli Studi della Campania "Luigi Vanvitelli"
Via Raffaele Perla, 21 – 81055 Santa Maria Capua Vetere (Caserta)
Tel. +39 0823 275579
e-mail: daniele.santarelli@unicampania.it

Short CV

Born in Cecina (Livorno), Italy, October 6, 1979. High School diploma in Classics & Humanities (Maturità classica) at Liceo "Enrico Fermi", Cecina (1998). MLitt (Laurea in Lettere) at University of Pisa (June 2002). PhD in "History of Christianity and of the Churches" (Storia del Cristianesimo e delle Chiese) at University of Padua (April 2006). Qualification for "maître de conférences" position in French universities, section 22, Histoire et civilisations (February 2007; expired and confirmed in January 2012 and January 2017). Qualification for "Professore associato" (Associate Professor) position in Italian universities, section 11/A4, Storia moderna (January 2014).

During his doctoral and post-doctoral career, he received scholarships and fellowships at Istituto italiano per gli studi storici and Istituto italiano per gli studi filosofici in Naples, Université Michel de Montaigne–Bordeaux III, University of Geneva (bourse Georges Regard and Swiss Confederation fellowship), Casa de Velázquez (bourse scientifique) and Universidad Complutense in Madrid, UMR 5190 LARHRA (CNRS/ISH Lyon) and UMR 5206 TRIANGLE (CNRS/ENS Lyon).

He has been fellow of the "Rita Levi Montalcini" Program of the Italian Ministry of Education, Universities and Research and he is actually Associate Professor of Early modern history at University of Campania "Luigi Vanvitelli". He is a member of the steering committee of the Interuniversity Center for Research and Development on Public History – CISPH, with administrative seat at Roma Tre University. He is also a member of the teaching staff (collegio dei docenti) of the Doctorate of National Interest (Dottorato di Interesse Nazionale) in Religious Studies (Studi Religiosi), with administrative seat at University of Modena and Reggio Emilia.

His research interests included the political and religious history of the early modern Mediterranean world, with special regard to the XVIth century and he has been particularly interested in the application of digital technology to the Humanities.

The full list of his publications is available on:

https://iris.unicampania.it/browse?type=author&authority=rp00034&authority_lang=en#.WnRb-ajiY2w